WELFARE REFORM

Exploring Opportunities for Addressing Children’s Mental Health and Child Welfare Issues

PREPARED BY:
Maria Woolverton, Jan McCarthy, Sara Schibanoff and Rhoda Schulzinger

National Technical Assistance Center for Children’s Mental Health
Center for Children’s Mental Health and Mental Health Policy
Georgetown University Child Development Center

FUNDED BY:
Center for Mental Health Services
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration
Child Adolescent and Family Branch
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and
Administration for Children and Families
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

2000
WELFARE REFORM

Exploring Opportunities for Addressing Children’s Mental Health and Child Welfare Issues

PREPARED BY:
Maria Woolverton, Jan McCarthy, Sara Schibanoff and Rhoda Schulzinger

National Technical Assistance Center for Children’s Mental Health
Center for Child Health and Mental Health Policy
Georgetown University Child Development Center

FUNDED BY:
Center for Mental Health Services
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration
Child Adolescent and Family Branch
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Administration for Children and Families
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

2000
Acknowledgments

This document was produced under the guidance of Judith Katz-Leavy of the Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS). The authors are indebted to her, and to the many individuals throughout the country who provided information about approaches to serving children and families affected by welfare reform. We would also like to thank members of the Federation of Families for Children’s Mental Health who offered valuable input from the perspective of families of children with mental health needs, as well as Gary Cyphers and Betsey Rosenbaum of the American Public Human Services Association (APHSA) and Eileen Sweeny of the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities (CBPP) who offered feedback on earlier drafts of this document.
Table of Contents

Acknowledgments ......................................................................................................................iii
Introduction ....................................................................................................................................1

Chapter 1:
Making Welfare Reform Work for Parents of Children with Mental Health Needs
Objectives ..............................................................................................................3
Key Issues ..............................................................................................................3
Overview ..............................................................................................................4
TANF Time Limits and Work Requirements ...........................................................................5
Child Care Issues ..............................................................................................8
Children's Supplemental Security Income (SSI) Program Changes ..................................12
Access to Medicaid ..........................................................................................16
References ..........................................................................................................23

Chapter 2:
Exploring the Child Welfare System Connection
Objectives ..........................................................................................................25
Key Issues ..........................................................................................................25
Overview ............................................................................................................26
Children Living with Relatives ..................................................................29
Children Absent from the Home ..............................................................31
Drug and Alcohol Issues ..............................................................................32
Domestic Violence Issues .............................................................................34
Teen Parents ......................................................................................................37
Research ..............................................................................................................40
Fiscal Issues ........................................................................................................40
Further Implications and Observations ....................................................44
References ..........................................................................................................47

Appendix A:
Studies Tracking the Impact of Changes to the Children's SSI Program

Appendix B:
Glossary of Terms ......................................................................................................57